Saree Shapewear is now trending among Indian girls, especially those who want to wear saree at parties, wedding ceremonies, and other special occasions. Though saree shapewear is a new fashion in India for many girls, we have observed that many girls are skeptical about it. They do not know how to wear the saree shapewear or are not confident about wearing it. Especially because it does not have the tape or flat string (nara) like a traditional petticoat, the tape holds the saree well. But the saree shapewear has elastic instead of tape. So, the common belief is that the saree shapewear will not be able to hold the saree properly. If the draping of the saree comes out suddenly, it can cause a lot of embarrassment. Apart from this, there are many frequently asked questions from our readers on saree shapewear. We have experimented with saree shapewear from different companies like Zivame, Clovia, Lyra, and Twin Birds. All of these brands produce great quality saree shapewear. floor. But it is not very comfortable. Avoiding that would be better.

Any type of shapewear should not be used at home. You can wear it for a short duration, parties, wedding ceremonies, a day outing, etc. But do not use it every day. At home, it is always recommended to wear loose garments.

Question 9: How do you wear shapewear under a saree?

A saree is particularly challenging when it comes to skin fitting. The draped fabric hangs down, which adds bulk to the hip area and can make a thin person look obese. A good way to wear a saree is to have shapewear under it, which is worn like a lehenga choli or an ankle-length choli.

A saree is a beautiful Indian outfit that can be worn for any occasion. But, many women find it difficult to wear a saree because of its long length and heavy fabric. Wearing a saree shapewear can help you to wear a saree easily and look great in it. It helps to hold the saree in place and gives a good shape to the body. There are different types of saree shapewear available in the market. You can choose the one that suits you the best. Wearing a saree shapewear is not difficult. You just need to follow some simple steps. First, choose the right size and type of shapewear. Then, put on the shapewear and adjust it properly. Finally, wear your saree over it.

Question 10: How do you choose a saree shapewear size?

When it comes to saree shapewear, one size does not necessarily fit all. Depending on your height, weight, and body type, you may need to size up or down to find the perfect fit.

The shapewear mustn't be too tight for you. Tight shapewear is not advised by the doctors. Wearing a tight outfit for a long time can cause many health problems. So, I would recommend selecting shapewear, which is loosely tight.

Question 11: How do you find the right saree shapewear?

When it comes to Indian wear, the saree is a timeless classic that can be dressed up or down, depending on the occasion. But no matter what the occasion, if you want to look your best in a saree, you need to make sure you have the right shapewear to give you a smooth, flattering silhouette.

So, how do you choose the right saree shapewear for you? Here are a few tips:

- First, take into consideration the fabric of your saree. If it's a heavier fabric, like silk or brocade, you'll need a firmer shapewear to hold everything in place. We would recommend buying branded shapewear, which has good quality fabric. This is important because shapewear is in touch with the skin more than any other garment. If the quality of the fabric is not good, then it can cause skin irritation.
- Think about the style of saree you're wearing. If it's a wrap-around style, you'll need shapewear that doesn't have straps or sleeves that will show.
- Consider your own personal style and comfort level. If you're not comfortable with a lot of compressions, go for a lighter shapewear. But if you want to smooth out every inch, choose a more heavy-duty option.

Is Saree Shapewear the Future of Petticoat Fashion?

Yes. Definitely, saree shapewear is now the future of petticoat fashion. But petticoat cannot be replaced totally by saree shapewear. A saree shapewear is a fashionable and attractive outfit that can be worn at parties, occasions, or on a day outing. But there are a few important points to remember.

What Do You Need to Remember While Wearing Shapewear?

- A saree shapewear is basically a shapewear. Every shapewear restricts the blood flow if you wear it for a long time. So if you have any heart disease, you are not recommended to wear it for a long duration. Even without any heart ailment, I would not suggest you wear it for a long duration or overnight.
- Always remember to choose the shapewear that is not very tight. The size is very crucial. If it is too tight, then switch to the next size up. Otherwise, it can cause acidity if you wear it for a long duration. Because if the shapewear presses your stomach for a long time, the stomach will produce acid, which can cause heartburn.
- Wearing shapewear for a longer duration or overnight on a regular basis can cause harm to your pelvic floor muscles.

Conclusion: Saree Shapewear vs Petticoat

In conclusion, saree shapewear is certainly an innovative and exciting concept that could revolutionize petticoat fashion. Its versatility, convenience, and comfort make it a unique and attractive option for anyone looking to add a modern spin to their wardrobe. If you're ready to take your style to the next level, try out some saree shapewear for yourself and experience the difference it can make. Who knows? You might just be the trendsetter that brings saree shapewear to the forefront of fashion. Having said that, the petticoat cannot be replaced completely by saree shapewear. The saree shapewear can be worn for special occasion purposes. But it is neither for everyday use nor for all occasions to use.
